Building Academic and Leadership Skills

The mission of the New Orleans Military and Maritime Academy is to educate high school students, no matter their background or previous school experience, to fully achieve their personal and academic potential through the acquisition of core knowledge and the skills of analysis, problem-solving, communication, and responsibility.

The New Orleans Military and Maritime Academy develops and improves student cadet skills in the areas of leadership, citizenship, character development, self discipline, communication, group dynamics, team building, and other related areas.

NOMMA's educational environment is based on a model of self discipline that fosters positive behavioral attitudes, builds self-esteem, instills personal responsibility, creates accountability, and teaches ethical decision making.

The Academy's Marine Corps Junior Reserve Officer's Training (MCJROTC) program is a unique learning opportunity for highly motivated students who desire a distinctive educational experience. The MCJROTC program operates within a disciplined military framework to train student cadets in leadership and motivational skills that will serve them during their school years, as well as throughout their lives.
